

HHH019 – Foundry Castings and Pattern Makers Company for Sale

Business summary

- Outstanding opportunity to acquire a profitable, well established foundry business located in the West Midlands UK.
- Leading, independent and privately owned foundry with a long standing, experienced workforce, and a solid client base. Established in 1983.
- Debt free with a strong balance sheet and track record of reliable sales year on year.
- Good client spread with a high level of repeat sales. 80% of business comes from their regular customers. The top customer in 2016 represented only 15% of revenue.
- Capacity for increased sales with augmented online marketing and sales team.
- Producer and supplier of aluminium, non-ferrous, steel, stainless steel and iron-alloy castings.
- Provides a comprehensive service designing and manufacturing bespoke components for a variety of industries throughout the UK and Europe.
- Onsite pattern making and machining facilities, offering a complete component service, enabling production continuity to ensure products of the highest quality.
- Components are produced in batch quantities of 300-400 as well as small numbers of prototype and development castings.
- Established and close working relationships with other foundries, allowing the company to provide products outside their current offering, making them a one stop shop for all customer requirements.
- Quality management is ISO 9001 accredited
- All foundry staff are fully trained and compliant with company processes to ensure compliance with ISO requirements. Managed by an experienced foreman capable of running the business day to day.
- Many high-profile projects undertaken in the UK, which has resulted in positive write ups in relevant trade journals.
- Located in a desirable area of the UK, the company is ideally placed close to main road routes with easy access to motorways, rail and air links, and easy access to London.

- The sale represents an excellent opportunity for a larger foundry group with a need to expand capacity or a precision engineering or machining group with a regular requirement for cast components, or for an investor an opportunity to acquire a profitable debt free business with management capability in place and a solid basis and market for growth.
